We are very proud to announce that Consortium led by ECG Summit with EPTISA Servicios de Ingenieria S.L. (ES), DMI (FR) and Project Group Italy Sri. We are very proud to announce that Consortium led by ECG Summit with EPTISA Servicios de Ingenieria S.L. (ES), DMI (FR) and Project Group Italy Sri. (We Gloal) (IT) has been awarded a contract for "Improving Capacities of the Prison Administration in the area of Alternative Sanctions, Post Penal Care and Healthcare" EuropeAid/138440/DH/SER/RS.

The project aims at improving the enforcement of penal sanctions and capacities of the prison administration in the area of alternative sanctions, post penal and healthcare of prisoners. Specifically, the project aims to increase the capacities of the 25 established Probation offices, provide suggestions for amendments to the relevant legislative framework and recommendations for expanding the activities of the Commissioners in terms of introducing a new reporting system during the criminal proceedings.

In the area of post-penal care, this project aims to create stronger cooperation between the public sector and civil society organisations, provide trainings for Commissioners who work with former inmates and special groups of former convicts (e.g. drug addicts, recidivists, violent prisoners and prisoners with infectious diseases amongst others) as well as organize and support Media Campaign in order to change social perception of importance of social reintegration of former convicts. The third relevant aspect of the project relates to health care in prisons and will provide recommendations for the improvement of the current healthcare system in prisons and offer recommendations for the possible and gradual transfer of healthcare competences from the Prison Administration to the Ministry of Health. This will also include the provision of training and the drafting of training programmes for staff as well as drafting of guidelines for the health services in prisons.

The project was awarded in April 2019 and began in September 2019.

Also, we are proud to announce that ECG Summit, for the first time, became a Lead Implementing Partner for the Framework Project in Montenegro "Assessment of the quality, safety and accessibility of current microbiological services in Montenegro" 2019/408281-Version1; Lot4 EuropeAid/138778/DH/SER/Multi. The assignment was awarded to our Framework Consortium led by ICON in August 2019 and is scheduled to start by the end of 2019.

As assessed, public microbiology laboratories remained undeveloped in Montenegro with almost every single microbiological laboratory on primary health care level still lacking adequate technical capacities and without meeting the standards needed to provide quality health and non-health related services throughout the country. At the same time, other related standards including safety at work are also lacking. The specific objective of this assignment is to conduct the assessment of currently available infrastructure, space, equipment and human capacities of public microbiology laboratories that will serve as a corner stone for further improvement of the laboratories, services and equipment in order to fill gaps in microbiology services identified by ECDC.

ECG is part of consortium led by ICON- Institute Public Sector GmbH from Germany that was awarded a contract "Framework contract services for the implementation of external aid 2018 (FWC SIEA 2018), Lot 4 Human Development and safety net" with identification number EuropeAid/138778/DH/SER/MULTI, for a two - year period. The Contracting Authority for above mentioned contract is the European Commission in Brussels.

In August 2019 ECG

Support to Implementing Anti-Corruption Strategies in Bosnia and Herzegovina

Consortium led by ECG is continuing its successful work on the EU funded project "Support to implementing anti-corruption strategies in Bosnia and Herzegovina" in BiH. The project aims at strengthening the capacities of institutions in BiH in implementing the anti-corruption strategies and related actions plans at the different levels of government. The main objective is to prevent and respectively reduce all forms of corruption in this country.

The first high-level conference was held in June 2019, bringing together representatives of government and managers of anti-corruption bodies at all levels of government in Bosnia and Herzegovina, discussing the needs of anti-corruption bodies in the country.

Ambassador Lars-Gunnar Wigemark, Head of the EU Delegation and EU Special Representative to BiH, who chaired the conference, recalled the consequences of corruption and the importance of a true fight against it:

"The Anti-Corruption Strategy is just plain paper if there is no political will for it. We want the fight against corruption to be a top priority in Bosnia and Herzegovina. Through the support of the European Union, corruption prevention bodies will be empowered and more effective in combating corruption, and will more effectively communicate with citizens," said Wigemark.

The conference "Strengthening Anti-Corruption in Bosnia and Herzegovina" was organized as part of the IPAK project - Institutional Support to Anti-Corruption, funded by the European Union with 750,000 euros. IPAK is one of three projects totaling around 3.5 million euros, launched by the European Union at the beginning of 2019 within the framework of continuous support to Bosnia and Herzegovina in the rule of law field.

I was fortunate enough to embark on the project management journey at ECG Summit, as I can't even imagine what I would be doing now without the immense abilities I acquired. I learned about standardization and process approach on a more practical hands-on level. But it wasn't only the abundance of knowledge and skills that I took with me. After the initial adjustment, which is unavoidable when you change jobs, it is the value of working for a greater good that captured my heart and pushed me to work even harder towards leading the way to change the national curriculum framework, introducing an office for cancer screening in the MoH, creating an office for free legal aid to refugees, or working on every other project I was involved with.

Q&A WITH ECG SUMMIT ALUMNI

SPOTLIGHT ON: Maja Davidovic

We touched base with Maja Davidovic, former ECG Senior Manager during her last visit to Belgrade. Maja currently works at Society of Motion Picture & Television Engineers in White Plains, New York as Education Project Manager. She reflects on her time at ECG and what excites her about her new job.

You got your start at the local private high school and then worked at ECG Summit European Consulting Group for years. How has working at ECG Summit shaped your career?

Each work experience brings a wealth of new knowledge and insight. I suppose I was fortunate enough to embark on the project management journey at ECG Summit, as I can't even imagine what I would be doing now without the immense abilities I acquired. I learned about standardization and process approach on a more practical hands-on level. But it wasn't only the abundance of knowledge and skills that I took with me. After the initial adjustment, which is unavoidable when you change jobs, it is the value of working for a greater good that captured my heart and pushed me to work even harder towards leading the way to change the national curriculum framework, introducing an office for cancer screening in the MoH, creating an office for free legal aid to refugees, or working on every other project I was involved with.

What are some things you took from your work experience at ECG Summit that still hold true for you today?

In a unique work environment such as ECG, of course, there are many things; nevertheless, I can freely say that hard work pays off in the long run. In addition, genuine care for people in your work environment and daily positive interaction creates happiness at work. Finally, clear, precise, and direct communication and "higher-level" stakeholder management skills will always lead to successful projects. I believe I find these statements universal for all environments.

Q What excites you about your current role at SMPTE?

Helping people advance their knowledge and skills by learning about the latest technologies in the Media and Entertainment industry is quite exciting because I learn a lot with each new project. Besides programming and day-to-day management duties, I find myself discussing the latest types of screens: it was 4K yesterday, and now it's 8K and 16K... I'm working on the session for the IBC show in Amsterdam that deals with the history of the technology used to produce the original Toy Story and what new tech is used to work on it now. A special program for the SMPTE fall conference will deal with "Space:" we're bringing together NASA astronauts and project leaders to talk about the Artemis project and why they are accelerating the timeline to get back to the Moon, while Todd Miller will speak about his movie "Apollo 11", a recent restoration success. We are trying to solve issues related to streaming and image quality that comes from space. While I coordinate and program the content for the conferences that talk about these issues, I see my son eagerly participating in e-sports competitions that use Unity gaming platforms, while at the same time I discuss the potential of gaming platforms with Unity leaders for use in the M&E industry. It is all very hectic, but I love it.

Anything else you want to share?

ECG has been my second home for seven years, and I look forward to visiting again during my next visit to Belgrade. I always look forward to seeing my ECG friends, who have supported and helped me every step of the way. We never know where we will end up in life but keeping a tab on important people and times helps us identify with who we are, and I am deeply grateful for my ECG experience as I believe it formed a significant part of my professional being.
